mini
milestones

Very few moments are so magical that they are overwhelming, but staring down at your newborn baby is certainly one of them. Often parents feel the urge to pause time; we're desperate to breathe it in, imprint the picture in our minds and hold tight to those moments that we know only too well are brief.

It's the minute details that we want to cherish forever; the magic of those precious little dimples, the innocent and curious eyes and the squidgy skin, new and un-lived in.

For me, there is no greater honour than being invited to be a part of those first precious days and getting to capture the adoration felt by both parent and child.

It's magical to visit a family throughout the first year and celebrate the mini milestones as their little ones grow. And let's not leave out the doting grandparents, capturing their love for the new arrival is always special and makes a lovely gift for them to treasure.
